Dear Chairman Wheeler:

I attended "New York Speaks: A Hearing on Our Right to Connect and Communicate" on Oct. 27, 2014. I would like to share my comments with you in writing:

~~Re: Net Neutrality~~ The need for NET NEUTRALITY is obvious. The internet is the future of our country, our world, all our current and future generations lives.
~~With much power in the hands of a few~~ ~~on computers~~ The internet is not only for entertainment like a lot of people use it for, it is for some the only way to be heard when they're facing injustice. we should never cripple anything used to help empower the people. (Continue on back if needed)

Dear Chairman Wheeler:

I attended "New York Speaks: A Hearing on Our Right to Connect and Communicate" on Oct. 27, 2014. I would like to share my comments with you in writing:

As an independent media maker + community educator, I know how important it is have access to a neutral open, + accessible communications platform.
Creating prioritized fast lanes is undemocratic, discriminatory + will hurt ~~these~~ those on the wrong side of the digital divide.

Dear Chairman Wheeler:

I attended "New York Speaks: A Hearing on Our Right to Connect and Communicate" on Oct. 27, 2014. I would like to share my comments with you in writing:

- a) You work for the country now, not the industry.
b) Title II is the simplest, most enforceable route to enduring network neutrality. The majority of the 3.9 million open internet comments support Title II.
c) Do the right thing!

Dear Chairman Wheeler:

I attended "New York Speaks: A Hearing on Our Right to Connect and Communicate" on Oct. 27, 2014. I would like to share my comments with you in writing:

In the era of weak monopolistic laws, giant companies such as Time Warner and Comcast are dictating who has access to the new media, specifically the internet. This new medium has the ability to facilitate vast amounts of data and innovation. This must not be allowed to be controlled by a few rich companies.

The American People have spoken, outrageous mergers are an assault on free markets and Internet slow lanes for new companies is NO WAY to encourage innovation.
